BENTLEY CHAMPAGNE WEEKEND WITH BOLLINGER

Bollinger, one of the last remaining independent Champagne houses, produces Grande Année and Special Cuvée Champagnes exclusively from grapes grown in its own vineyards.

But this weekend is very special, for the chateau which is never open to the public, invites Bentley guests to attend the launch of Bentley Champagne from Bollinger. This includes a private tour of the chateau, cellars and vineyards hosted by Bollinger Chairman, Ghislain de Montgolfier.

Your base: Chateau Les Crayeres - a luxurious, elegant hotel set in seven hectares of parkland on the edge of the City of Reims. This unique experience begins on Friday with champagne dinner at the three Michelin starred restaurant Le Parc Les Crayeres. On Saturday you will visit the Bollinger chateau for lunch followed by an evening balloon race before dinner.

On Sunday, a personal tour of Reims Cathedral, shopping and a visit to the historic Reims Grand Prix circuit completes this memorable tour.

As you would expect, guests will be chauffeur driven throughout the weekend in the latest Bentley Mulsanne and new Flying Spur models with airport transfers available for guests choosing to fly to Reims or Paris.

Near where the Arctic Circle meets the Russian Border in the North of Finland is your opportunity to experience the full potential of a Bentley.

For there you will enjoy two full days driving on specially prepared frozen lakes, learning the art of ice driving from Bentley’s driving team and four times world Rally Champion Juha Kankunen in the toughest of natural driving conditions. In so doing, discover how your newly acquired advanced driving skills can handle the concentrated power of these magnificent cars with or without the support of advanced technology. For owners, enthusiasts and ice drivers this is a unique opportunity to enjoy Bentley optimum performance. Besides extreme all-wheel drive handling and spectacular controlled sideways drifting, other attractions include a night-time husky sled safari, a traditional Finnish smoke sauna, snowmobiling and dinner at an historic reindeer farm.

Last year saw Bentley owners and guests flying in from England, China, India, Russia, Australia, North America, the Middle East, Europe and South Africa.

Join us in 2014 for what has been described as ‘the world’s ultimate winter driving experience’.

ITALIAN LEGEND
The Mille Miglia – a legendary 1,000 mile road race through Italy is often described as one of the supreme challenges in motoring history. Bentley has extensively researched the original route of the Mille Miglia so as to create this unique driving experience for Bentley owners and their guests.

It is possible to follow the original 1955 course quite closely as many roads have little changed, superseded by parallel autostradas that now carry much of the modern traffic. Motoring legend and Mille Miglia winner Sir Stirling Moss's original diaries and notes from 1955 have provided much of the data for this historic course.

The result is an enthralling road journey to be savoured by Bentley owners and their guests, whether they choose to participate in a modern or historic Bentley motor car.

The route can be completed comfortably over five days, allowing ample time for slower drivers to enjoy themselves and for leisurely lunches and relaxed evenings. Along the way we have arranged stays at elegant and contemporary hotels, great Italian food and experiences including a private tour of the Sistine Chapel and behind the scenes guided visit to the Coliseum.

James Purdey & Sons was established as an independent gun and rifle making business in 1814. By 1878 Queen Victoria had assigned a Royal Warrant to Purdey, as has every British monarch since.

This exclusive, one day experience has been specially created for Bentley owners and their guests and is of particular interest whether you are an experienced or novice shot.

Bentley owners and their guests will convene at the West London Shooting School where breakfast will be served. You are then chauffeur driven in the latest Bentleys to Purdey’s Mayfair showrooms.

On arrival, there will be an introduction from Richard Purdey, direct descendant of founder James Purdey in the historic Long Room. Guests will then visit the nearby Purdey factory. Here Richard Purdey will host a tour of the gun making facilities, providing Bentley guests with the opportunity to see at first hand the traditional craftsmanship that goes into the creation of a bespoke shotgun.

Guests will be chauffeured back to the West London Shooting School for lunch followed by an afternoon’s shooting with historic and modern Purdey shotguns.

A WORLD OF PRIVILEGE
Bentley’s Secret Britain is an exclusive, unique suite of premium experiences, many not usually accessible at any price. Indeed, so many are packed into this five day vacation that previous Bentley guests have described it as ‘the best holiday ever’.

On arrival in the UK, guests are chauffeured to the Lanesborough Hotel, facing London’s famous Hyde Park Corner for a welcome dinner. Next morning, you enjoy a power boat tour of the Thames before a private visit to the Royal Mews at Buckingham Palace. There you view the Queen’s carriages and cars including the Bentley State Limousine.

A splendid gourmet lunch follows in the private Bentley Room at Michelin-starred Mosimann’s restaurant. Then comes an afternoon at your leisure for shopping at Harrods before a private evening tour of Windsor Castle followed by dinner at Cliveden.

The next morning comes a visit to Eastnor Castle where you stay overnight as personal guests of the Hervey-Bathurst family. During your visit you enjoy such traditional English country pursuits as falconry, archery and clay pigeon shooting.

On your last day you visit the Bentley factory in Crewe for a VIP factory tour to see at first hand the traditional craft skills that make Bentley cars unique. Then follows a private lunch at the Bentley Mews – home of Bentley’s managing director.

You are then driven to the Abode Hotel in Chester before a final dinner together at one of Chester’s finest restaurants as a perfect ending to this unique and memorable vacation.
